

Creative Rational

The "F" in the name comes alive in the brand itself, taking shape as a graphic element that mirrors the geometry and dynamism of a cyclist powering through a sprint.

The brand's proportions and angles align with near-mechanical precision to the profile of a cyclist straining forward, toward the next challenge, record, victory.

An acceleration that reflects, above all, the pace of the digital world, a race where the brand seeks to jump ahead with an identity both instantly recognizable and strikingly distinctive, always driven by the desire to amaze and inspire - as such spirit can splendidly define both competitive sports and a core business strategy.

From the saddle of a bike to the rally of online gaming, this brand is poised to climb the rankings, leaving the chasers behind as it stands out as the leader.
